160 Record Keeping Forms on CD

Complete Record Keeping Forms and Transcripts
Helpful Aids for Home Study - Family Forms
Unit Study - Worksheets - Educational Helpers
Print and Use as You Need - Ready & Waiting
Easy to Use - Year after Year!

If your family loves unit studies, then we have many forms that you can copy and print for your needs. If you are more into packaged curriculum, there are plenty of forms to help you along. We meet the needs of ALL home education styles, even help with family needs!

You can keep records in a binder, or together on a clipboard or copy a group and take them to a copy shop to be spiral bound. You can create a book for each child, or place them all together, whether you have one child or twelve!

If you have a teen working on their high school transcripts, we have lots of very useful forms to help track hours of instruction, course descriptions, grades and four year planning.

There are forms to help you manage your home as well. No need to buy a duplicate book or educational CD when you know at a glance what materials are in your library. You can keep track of materials ordered, correspondence mailed, and have monthly or quarterly progress reports on your children.

*This is the beauty of this collection.
You select JUST what you want, now, next month, and for the years to come.*

History Scribe - Books and CDs

A great way to learn about history with research, writing and drawing. Children learn by rewriting and drawing what they have learned in their own words and images.

There are programs out there that offer historical coloring books with the writing and pictures done for them, but what are they really learning but how to color?

With History Scribe books, your children are the authors!

They work well in conjunction with all history programs and cover the key points of various time periods. Each page offers a brief outline of the topic and some include timeline dates if you are also working with a timeline book. And the rest is your children's effort.

Children learn from what they create.

Your children will love History Scribe books, worksheets and CDs, too.
You will love the learning and retention they will keep with them, long after the lesson is done!

Tote 'n' Teach Oration Study Books

Do you struggle with teaching your children good solid classical oration?

Do you search and search books and the web looking for the right material to teach for rote memorization and then give up?

Do you wish your children could do something fun and constructive during driving time and those times of the day when you're waiting?

Tote 'n' Teach Travel Books are the perfect tool for your homeschooling plans!

Imagine having a handy little flip book with good classical oration pieces to tempt and train your children with the love of memorization. We all know that memorization studies are the root of classical education, we remember the tales of great Greek teachers, reciting and demanding oration from their students; the young children of the prairie schoolhouses all joining in on the Gettysburg Address or delightful verses from the Bible or even our own public school days of learning the Pledge of Allegiance and learning rhymes to help with spelling and grammar.

With Tote 'n' Teach Travel books, you get all the research done for you. Handy little tough books, spiral bound, with protective covers and card stock pages that will go from the car and van to the library, to swim classes and music lessons, even in the backyard on the deck. No longer are you tied to big clumsy workbooks and expensive reference tomes.

Each page offers delightful clean and crisp graphics of the memorization piece and on the flip side is some background information on the piece as well as conversation starters to challenge your children in stimulating conversation. Geared for 3 levels of student, Beginning, Intermediate and Advanced in each book.

You can have your child work through the pieces or use one book for many children of different ages! Imagine the thrill at the dinner table when even Mom can recite the seven wonders of the ancient world! Kids love when learning is interactive, challenging and fun.

Our Tote 'n' Teach systems are easy, take only minutes of otherwise wasted time and will give your children positive rewarding skills through memorization!
